

Everyone watches a movie together. All but 1 chooses a unique character. Everyone needs 3 coins, same amount and different year from all others. On a card, write down your character's name and the years of your coins. The one with no character, the Planner, sets a scene not in the movie. One at a time, describe what your character will do. Planner responds. If you try something challenging, the Planner will ask for one of your coins, add one or two of his own and cover them up. Point to a covered one. If yours comes up, your character succeeds and you get to keep all the coins. If the Planner's comes up, the character fails and the Planner keeps them. Twice per game, you can write down something special the character can do and put in two coins.

The game ends when the story ends or if someone loses all coins.

Nutshell copyright 2009 Grant Davis. See more at PlumbagoLounge.com